"The BIG PRINT"

This document clearly sets out, in as simple English as we can ...

- What YOU can expect from us, and
- What WE can expect from you

A summary of your Terms and Conditions is on the next page

3.1 Visits to your premises

We (or other companies or organisations acting on our behalf) may need to visit your premises to carry out tests, provisioning or activation and you agree to such visits and to provide such other co-operation and assistance as we may reasonably require. We will liaise with you to arrange the timing of these appointments. It is also possible that BT or another party may contact you directly in relation to any appointment. We only deliver our broadband and voice services to the master Network Terminating Equipment (NTE) telephone socket at your home or business. We are not responsible for any internal wiring, additional phone sockets or extension cables.

3.2 Problems activating the service

We may end the contract with you before the Service is provisioned ready for your use ("activation") if:

- you fail a credit check;
- incorrect payment details have been provided to us;
- you are not within a geographic area covered by us; or

4 Service Provision

4.1 Reasonable skill and care

We shall try to ensure that any service provided to you by us ("Service") shall be provided: in accordance with our description from time to time of such Service; and using the reasonable skill and care of a competent UK provider of similar Services.

4.2 Network changes

We may from time to time make changes to our network or the technical specification of a Service. If these changes will materially detrimentally affect the Service, we will inform you in advance by publishing the change on the AdEPT Telecom website.

4.2 Faults

It is technically impracticable for us to provide a fault-free Service.

4.4 Suspension of service

We may suspend provision of a Service:

- for operational or technical reasons (in which case we will try to notify you prior to such suspension and to minimise the impact upon you);
- if we have reasonable grounds to believe that the Service is being used fraudulently or illegally or in breach of clause 7, whether by you or anyone else; or
- if the use of the Service by you or anyone else, may damage or disrupt the proper functioning of other Services or our other networks.

5 How long is your contract?

5.1 Contract length

We will provide you with Service from the date on which the Service is activated for the minimum period of 18 months ("Initial Period").

If your order comprises multiple lines with different activation dates, then each line shall be the subject of a separate Initial Period from the relevant date of activation.

5.2 Initial period

If there is a conflict between these general terms, the special terms or applicable product terms, our tariff, any order acknowledgement or any other reference to an Initial Period then the longest period specified shall constitute the Initial Period. Following the Initial Period, the Service will continue until terminated in accordance with these Terms. If the Service is modified such that the Service or pricing depends on your commitment to a further contract period, then this further commitment shall be deemed to extend the Initial Period until the end of this further contract period.

5.3 Reasons for serving notice to end the contract

Either you or we may end a Service or the contract by thirty (30) days prior notice (written or verbal) to the other if:

- the other party has materially breached these Terms and has not corrected such breach within thirty (30) days of a written notice requiring correction; or
- the other party is, or is deemed to be insolvent, bankrupt or unable to pay its debts, makes or proposes an arrangement or composition with its creditors generally, enters into liquidation whether compulsorily or voluntarily or makes an application to a court of competent jurisdiction for protection from its creditors generally or a petition is presented or a resolution is passed by it for its winding up, a court of competent jurisdiction makes an order for its winding-up or dissolution, an administration order is made in relation to it or a receiver or administrative receiver is appointed over or a person legally appointed to do so takes possession of or sells any of its assets or notice of a meeting to carry out any of the foregoing is duly served; or

- an event outside our reasonable control, prevents continued provision of a Service for more than thirty (30) days.

5.4 Contract ends at the end of the Initial Period or at the end of the notice period

Either of us may end a Service or the contract by giving not less than thirty (30) days prior notice in writing to the other at any time after activation; notice will expire on the last day of the notice period or the last day of the Initial Period, whichever is later.

You may end a Service or the contract if we notify you of a materially detrimental change to a Service or these Terms. In this case you may only terminate during the period of thirty (30) days following such notification.

5.5 You must pay until the contract ends

If you want to end a Service or the contract otherwise than as set out above, you will still be liable to pay us all Charges due to the end of the Initial Period.

6.2 If we supply you with Equipment:

- Equipment is subject to a limited manufacturers' guarantee in accordance with the documentation provided with the Equipment. Such relevant documentation shall govern such guarantee, but you should be aware that, in general, manufacturers' guarantees only provide for (at manufacturers' option) replacement, repair or refund of Equipment which does not function in accordance with the manufacturers' applicable published specification for a period of twelve (12) months (in the case of hardware) and thirty (30) days (in the case of software) from the date of delivery and that the limited guarantee is conditional on the Equipment being used in accordance with any applicable end-user terms, manufacturer's instructions, without misuse, without excess wear and tear, without improper use or neglect, without end-user attempted repair and that you will be required to bear the cost of any return of Equipment to us or the manufacturer unless we inform you otherwise in writing;
